

How to change my Camera Password?

Our camera password is saved in the camera. The ifcam app also has an account password. Don't get confused. These two passwords play different roles, and they work together to ensure only legitimate users can access.

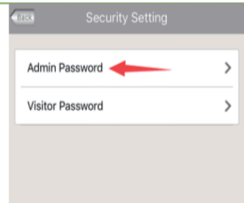

In our case, the camera ID and camera password saved in the camera is just like your gmail account and password saved in Google server, while the camera ID displayed on the ifcam app and the password displayed when tapping Settings > Security Setting
